Meeting Description

New Network Technologies for Lighting An introduction to Power over Ethernet Lighting Systems and the Internet of Things

In this presentation we will cover an introduction to luminaires powered directly from ethernet switches and the benefits and possibilities of these new technologies in commercial and retail applications. These new systems fully integrate sensors, system monitoring and management and a wide range of user interfaces to create flexible and energy efficient workspaces while meeting stringent new energy code requirements.

Featured Speaker

Peter Rogers has worked in the lighting industry for over 40 years with firms ranging from Strand Lighting in theatre and television and with Philips directing their global marketing efforts for their technology products from Color Kinetics, Philips Controls and Philips Entertainment. He is currently the Director of Sales for Forman and Associates.
