

Savings By Design

Thursday, October 8, 2015 11:30 am - 1:00 pm

Harry's Plaza Café, Santa Barbara

Program

Savings By Design

Presented by Dave Intner AIA, LEED-AP, CEM
Southern California Edison,
Engineering and Design Solutions

This talk will familiarize lighting designers and engineers with the Savings by Design Program, available tools, resources, and methods to achieve significant energy savings beyond code requirements in the design of their buildings. Particular focus will be on strategies for increased building performance in light of the significant recent changes in the 2013 California Energy Standards.

Course includes an in depth discussion of utility sponsored incentives, approaches to modeling energy performance, and the important role of an engineer or lighting designer in an Integrative Design Process.
